

CONGRESS

The Society for Socialist Studies holds its annual conference as part of the Congress of the Humanities and Social Sciences, the largest multidisciplinary academic gathering in Canada.

Sessions and roundtables are organized by returning and new members of the Society on a wide variety of subjects. The Society chooses an overall theme, but we are open to any topic that relates to the broad mandate of the Society. The Society strongly encourages the participation of new scholars and graduate students.

Each year, a well-known scholar delivers a keynote address. Congress is also our annual opportunity to meet in person, organize and socialize. Returning and new members are encouraged to attend our Annual General Meeting in order to learn more about the Society and to help sustain and build it.

JOIN THE DEBATE ON FACEBOOK

The Society for Socialist Studies has a Facebook page where participants can add events, links to articles and discuss and debate issues.

Go to www.facebook.com/SocietyForSocialistStudies and click on the "Like" button to join the discussion.

CONTACT

The Society for Socialist Studies
www.socialiststudies.ca

Socialist Studies/Études socialistes (Journal)
www.socialiststudies.com

admin@socialiststudies.ca

Photos: Network Cultures, Sebastiaan ter Berg, Andrew Fienberg.
Printed by union labour.

the society for socialist studies

An association of progressive academics, students, activists and members of the general public that facilitates research emphasizing socialist, feminist, anti-racist and ecological points of view.

Since 1967.

INTRODUCING...

The Society for Socialist Studies is an independent academic association not affiliated with any political organization or group. The Society currently focuses on two projects: our peer-reviewed academic journal and our annual conference at the Congress of the Humanities and Social Sciences. Both projects provide a forum for wide-ranging discussion, debate and analysis, making an important contribution to the ongoing development of socialist theory, knowledge and practices.

“ The Society for Socialist Studies has witnessed recent growth in popularity and online outreach, and is looking for new members, authors, researchers and volunteers. The Society specifically encourages the participation of persons from equity seeking groups. ”

HOW TO GET INVOLVED

The Society for Socialist Studies is a growing organization with an expanding online presence. We continue to look for new members, authors, researchers, session-organizers and volunteers. We welcome new scholars and graduate students.

Membership information is available on the Society website. We offer a special membership rate to students and low-income or unemployed persons.

We particularly encourage anti-racist, critical disability, ecological, feminist, Indigenous and queer approaches to socialism.

THE JOURNAL

Socialist Studies/Études socialistes is a peer-reviewed, interdisciplinary and open-access journal. It focuses on describing and analyzing social, economic and/or political injustice, and practices of struggle, transformation and liberation.

As an open-access journal, Socialist Studies/Études socialistes is freely available online and has global reach. Our journal website has been accessed by readers in over 70 countries.

The journal regularly features special sections or even entire issues on a selected theme. Recent themes include: The Legacy of G.A. Cohen, Neo-Liberal Austerity and Working Class Resistance, Rosa Luxemburg's Political Economy, Twenty Years after Kanehsatà:ke and Rethinking Leninism.

In 2010, Socialist Studies/Études socialistes began publishing a series of feature interviews with outstanding critical scholars such as William K. Carroll, Dorothy E. Smith, David McNally, Himani Bannerji and Sunera Thobani.

Each issue includes an extensive book review section.

Socialist Studies/Études socialistes is indexed in EBSCO Publishing, Left Index and the Wilson Social Sciences Full Text databases, and is a member of the Canadian Association of Learned Journals (CALJ). We welcome submissions of strong, original manuscripts.

